REFLECTION:

Gen. 22:1-14; Psalm 13; Romans 6:12-23; Matthew 10:40-42
In a world deeply permeated by disorder and sin, we are challenged by God's mission to his Church to transform the unjust structures of society, and to respond to human need by loving service. The social teaching of the Church is one of grace; the very grace that flows from the side of God who suffers with us, and for us. By the creative and redemptive works of Jesus, we are in mystical communion with one another – intrinsically and inextricably bound. Our vocation is to serve others, in whom God's image has been lovingly created, sustained and redeemed.

Pray that you will find opportunities to share with others in your community the message of God's grace. Give thanks for the Aboriginal peoples of Australia and for their special place in our country.
(ABM Pew Reflections 2017)
